Dear Friends of Taylor Morris:

We need your help! The Taylor Morris Recovery Fund is a fund that has been set up to help Taylor recover from his injuries he suffered from while fighting for our country in Afghanistan. Unfortunately, we recognize that for years to come, Taylor will incur significant secondary expenses beyond the medical expenses that are covered by insurance and assistance from the Navy. We are seeking sponsors and donations for the Taylor Morris “Unstoppable” benefit which will be held Friday, October 19th at the Park Place Events Centre in Cedar Falls.

Taylor joined the Navy after high school, pursuing Navy Special Operations. He developed a passion for becoming a member of an elite class of soldiers known as the EOD. The Explosive Ordnance Disposal teams are the first men on the battlefield. They clear paths of explosives for other soldiers, literally putting their lives on the line for their fellow men. He began the rigorous EOD training throughout the United States in 2008 and graduated in the Summer 2009. Since then he has been stationed in Virginia Beach, VA, where he continued his EOD education and training.

In January of 2012 he was deployed on his first tour to Afghanistan, set to return August 2012. On May 3rd, Taylor was injured in action. The injuries were profound but he stayed conscious immediately afterwards, being able to tell his partner to call his girlfriend, Danielle Kelly, and his family to tell them what had happened. He sustained injuries to all four limbs; entailing loss of both legs, left arm from the bicep down, and right hand. He is under medical care, setting and achieving goals each day while recuperating in Walter Reed National Military Medical Center in Washington DC.

Taylor’s recovery process will be long and grueling. However, if you have had a chance to get to know Taylor or read about his progress, you know that he is a remarkable young man who is very determined to become independent and move forward with his life. He is not afraid of a challenge or hard work!

When our committee got together to develop a theme for the benefit for Taylor, we had to come up with a name. Almost immediately, the word “unstoppable” came to mind. We know that he can and will achieve his goals with Danielle by his side. And we know that any donation to the Taylor Morris “Unstoppable” benefit will honor Taylor and his service to our country as well as to help him achieve his goals and live life with a continued passion and zest for hard work, a “wild” spirit, and a genuine love for his family and friends.

Sincerely,

The Taylor Morris “Unstoppable” Committee
